

Quote

"Justinian never considered himself merely an Eastern emperor, and his empire had never officially accepted the loss of its territory, which always remained legally Roman and subject to eventual recovery." - Great quote!

How did the region of Justinian effect the lives of the people in the empire?
 - This is a great question. How can he answer this if of what we have learned?
 In what ways did Justin use Theodora to help contribute to the empire?
 - I like this question!

Good job!
 Knowledge, great creativity and great job capturing the key parts of Justinian and the key vocab!

The Byzantine Emperor

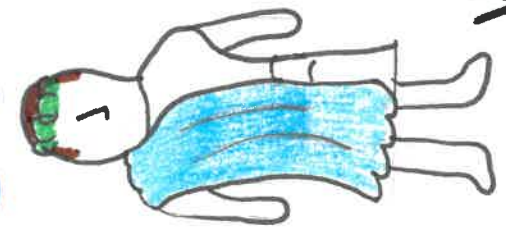

JUSTINIAN

I want Old ROME!

Summary:

This reading talks about Justinian's rise to power after the fall of the Roman Empire. During his early years, many internal conflicts arose and he was looked at as a "fool". Justinian had many policies as he seeks to control the old Roman empire. The death of Justinian was a rejoicing as he needed to much control during his reign.

- Like what? Maybe the Nile? Rots?
 - That's crazy isn't it?

Good job ~~at~~ Student A!

What did Theodora do to help the Byz Empire to grow?

- This isn't a good start to a question, I think

We can make it a little higher of a level than that.

Why would Justinian order to kill 30K of his own people, ^{or} Good question!

She served the emperor & Justinian as both his political adviser and wife -- and saved his throne.
- I like this quote!

Theodora ⁺¹

The emperor was ready to flee the city giving up his throne to save his life.

Summary

To better understand Theodora's role in the growth of the Byz empire and Justinian's life.

For this, more the purpose for the assignment, it is not really a summary, I do like this statement though!

Nika Riots

~ Summary ~
 A woman known as Theodora was once a well-sought actress & prostitute. She was a Christian, but she was in a sect called Monophysites. She was the modest, quiet, and met Justinian. They fell in love & he made her a patrician so he could marry her. For 20 years, she worked alongside Justinian. She made divorce laws more favorable for women & also convinced her husband Justinian to stay after the Nika Riots. Once peace was restored she helped Justinian to build 25 religious buildings. She died of cancer before Justinian died. - Good Summary! Great detail!

~ Quotes ~

"A fateful encounter transformed Theodora from a reformed actress to the wife of the heir apparent to the Byzantine throne." (Paragraph 2, lines 1-2)

Good quote

"Two years later, they became emperor & empress." (Paragraph 5, lines 5-6)

Good quote

~ Questions ~

1.) If you were Justinian, how would you feel about falling in love with someone who has a result of being immoral? - Good question, but maybe say "history" instead of result next time.

2.) Imagine you were living during the times of the Nika Riots, how would you react to all the chaos going on?

Great verbs!
