On Facebook!

The image shows a screenshot of a Facebook page for a short film titled "Verona". The page is viewed from the perspective of the user "Verona: a short film by Connor Novotny". The top navigation bar includes the Facebook logo, a search bar, and the user's name "Connor Novotny" with "Home" and a lock icon. Below the navigation bar, a message reads "You are posting, commenting, and liking as Verona: a short film by Connor Novotny — Change to Connor Novotny".

The main content area features a large purple cover photo with the word "VERONA" in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters. A smaller thumbnail image of a woman's face is visible on the left side of the cover. Below the cover, the title "Verona: a short film by Connor Novotny" is displayed, along with "95 likes · 1 talking about this". A "Change Cover" button is located in the bottom right corner of the cover area.

Below the title, there is a "Movie" section with a description: "Verona is a medium-length film about two people recreating the Romeo and Juliet story. Created by Connor Novotny in partnership with Hannah Julaine Clark and Estella Soto." To the right of this description are "Photos" and "Likes" tabs, with the "Likes" tab showing a thumbs-up icon and the number "95".

At the bottom of the page, there is a "Status" section with a text input field containing "How are you doing, Verona: a short film by Connor Novotny?". To the right of the status section, there is a "Highlights" dropdown menu and a "84 Friends" section showing a list of profile pictures and the text "Like Verona: a short film by Connor Novotny".

On the right side of the page, there is an "Admin Panel" button, an "Ads Manager" button, and a "Now Started" indicator. At the bottom right, there is a "See Your Ad Here" section with a "29,847" count and a "Promote Your P" button.
